

FACING

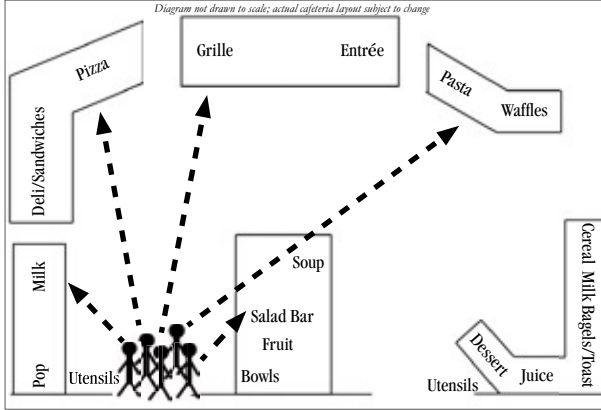

The CAFETERIA REHEATED

A STRATEGY GUIDE

Story by Curtis Heidenn; Design by David Wiegman

INTRODUCTION

You come to me looking for my help, my wisdom, and expertise? You say that you showed up on campus and The Cafeteria Reheated proved to be much more difficult than the original (The Cafeteria)? Is it more confusing and deceptive? You have yet to make it to the utensils before your Corn Pops get soggy. Stacking plates is too difficult so you don't get all the food you want. Well Grasshopper, keep an ear to the soda machine and a foot in the pudding and you too can defeat The Cafeteria Reheated.

HISTORY

First and foremost Ladybug, one must get in the head of the enemy. Pay attention Beetle, I move quickly.

How was The Cafeteria Reheated able to make all these changes when the school imposed many budget freezes across campus, you ask? Well it is simple, it got outside help. Ever heard of Sodexo Marriot? The Cafeteria was pulled under Sodexo's wing, they amped it and spit out the sequel. Using an investment covering close to 3/4 of the expenses involved with the changes, TCR was born.

You see TCR is relying on the element of surprise. The revamping process was done so fast and with such precision it snuck up on many of you. Renovation began on May 20 and was finished quickly and on time (Aug. 1). Without a moments hesitation the kitchen laborers went straight to work and meals hit trays by Aug. 5.

This is quite impressive considering all the changes, including new storerooms, offices, carpet in the PDR's and dining hall, a broiler, two soup kettles, a dishwashing machine, ceiling tile, wallpaper and all new surfaces.

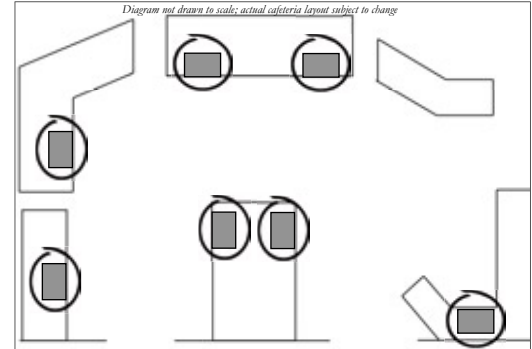

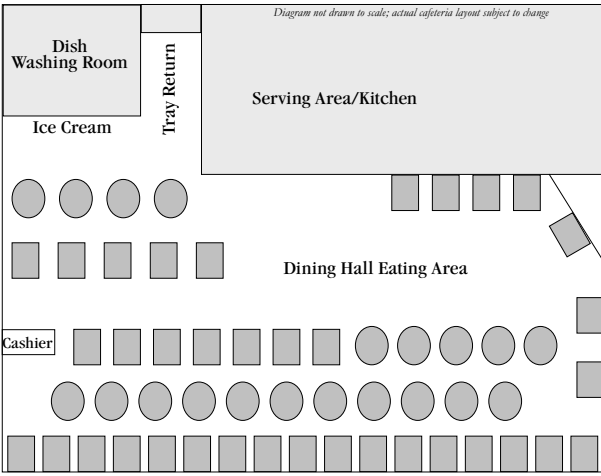

Now that we know the improved weapons in TCR, let us look at the tactics and the strategy needed to defeat it. Relax, Caterpillar, it is all right to have fear, for that breeds motivation. Focus.

GETTING STARTED

Before we begin let us discuss the strongest tactic. If you go into battle in multi-player mode, the most important thing to do is disperse. Don't all attack the same facet of the TCR, disband and overwhelm all the pressure points at the same time.

LEVEL 1 - TRAY COLLECTION

Listen up Mosquito; Here are the weaknesses and how to exploit them. First off, there are many places that one can get trays. This is meant as merely a distraction device. Overlook it and attack them individually. Your best location depends on what you wish to attain. Narrow down your selections and move in.

LEVEL 2 - SEATING

TCR will also try to bring more enemies in than before. It tricked many by removing nine of the bigger round tables and replacing them with smaller square ones. This is just a diversion as the capacity went from 260 to 310.

Do not let the seating psyche you out. Pick a table and strike fast. You must plan out your entire meal. For instance, if you plan on collecting points for five or six course meals, stick close to the food.

LEVEL 3 - CHOOSING A STRATEGY

Next lets discuss the narrowing down of lines of the main entrée from two to one. This is just meant to make the level more difficult. You can use this to your advantage. There is more room in the serving area, which is one of TCR's main weaknesses. This allows more people to be in the area without as much congestion and dropped trays. Concentrate on the things you want before you go in.

Once you have a game plan, head straight for what you need. If a French dip is what you desire, don't be distracted by the desert tray or an enticing waffle. After you attack, move quickly to your next victim and show no mercy.

LEVEL 4 - SPEED BUMPS

Another Achilles heel is your failure to perfect the essential moves. Make sure you don't have to slow down for things such as overflow on your soda or grabbing a soup spoon. Many frivolous mistakes similar to those aforementioned take place and it will hurt your time bonus. You must become extremely efficient; TCR will catch your hastiness and quickly take advantage.

LEVEL 5 - FINAL DIVERSIONS

Cockroach, pay attention! Another weapon TCR has thrown at us, also featured in the first, is the wonderful staff that serve as our hosts. TCR meant employees like Mary and Donna, as distractions. They are enticing and most players are forced to respond to their cordial greeting and partake in a pleasant discussion with them. This actually is helpful to you because they are a wealth of information and can serve as a safety when a player is stuck.

CONCLUSION

Venus flytrap, you have consumed all that I can say. Of course, this attack will not work the same for all people. The key is to find a way that works for you.

Be not sheep and follow, be lions and lead. You can defeat TCR. It just takes more gameplay and in the end it is more enjoyable than its predecessor. Just give it time gamers, after all patience is a virtue.
